Boutique Law Firm Handles Patent Needs for Startups

Houston, TX - July 24, 2024 - Numerous patent service providers may seem appealing at first glance if thorough due diligence is not performed. A quick search for "file patent application" will produce sponsored ads for online providers promoting a quick, easy, and budget-friendly DIY approach to patent filings. However, what is marketed is often not the best option for a startup looking to optimize for long-term growth and investor appeal.

Strategic, attorney-led patent searches and applications can still be efficient. Lloyd & Mousilli, a boutique law firm specializing in intellectual property, technology law, and related litigation, designed its patent practice specifically with startups in mind.
